He also informed the audience about his company and the difficulties he has experienced as an entrepreneur. The guest speaker also spoke to the students about the ideation process and how to choose the best concept for building goods or services.

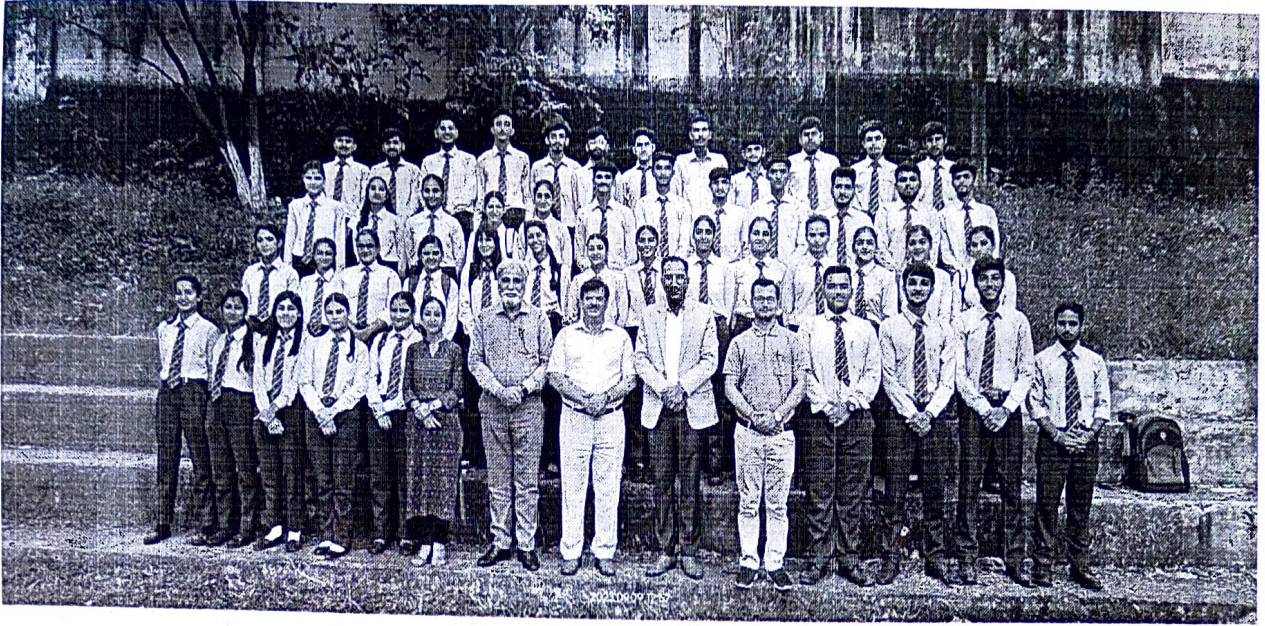

Mr. Gulshan addressed the participants about the qualities that are required to be an entrepreneur through various personality traits-based activities. He later added that there is a lot of untapped potential in India and specified the areas. His concluding remarks noted that investors will show interest in investing money into the business if that idea has the potential, if it can sustain and scale up in the future.
